The Council on Aging welcomes nominations from individuals and organizations who share our commitment to recognize Middle Tennessee's seniors who have dedicated their lives to improving the communities in which they live.

Sage Organization of the Year: Leading by Example

The Sage Awards, presented each year since 1991, are given to mature adults who have made outstanding contributions to Middle Tennessee through a lifelong commitment of working to improve the quality of life in their communities. This year, we are also recognizing one organization (for-profit, non-profit or government agency) that has made an outstanding contribution on behalf of older adults in Middle Tennessee.

Presented to a Middle Tennessee organization for outstanding contributions on behalf of older adults in Middle Tennessee. The organization (for-profit, non-profit or government agency) has been a leading advocate for older adults and/or has a longstanding reputation for above-and-beyond corporate social responsibility efforts. Special consideration will be given to applicants that demonstrate collaboration, with other businesses, non-profits, or government, in their corporate social responsibility efforts.

This award is open to any organization (for-profit, non-profit or government agency) that makes a significant and positive impact on the lives of older adults in Middle Tennessee.
